Hi Jack,
 Last Tuesday nite you missed the biggest nite Juniate (at Piccoli Playground) ever had. Again, you fail me to describe the football scene that took place. It was the biggest crowd ever assembled in Juniate that I ever saw.

If you were to be blindfolded, taken to Piccoli, then the blindfold removed, you wouldn't know where you were. That's how different and great Piccoli playground looked.

Ed McLaughlin who coaches the Juniate SPARTANS made a 10 min. speech before the game. He said we could have many nites like this if we all got together and made or forced the city to fix up this field & install permanent lights. Well you should have heard the applause. He also said, that before the year was out someone would be around to your house to ask you to sign a petition - again more applause. The entire nite was a great success, even though Juniate lost 13 to 0 that was a success too. The Bears (you up money) were a semi Pro. Team. Their ages went as high as 42 yrs (a bald headed fat place picker who was good) but the average age of the Bears was around 25 yrs. while Juniate's ages went from 15 to 20. So you can see Piccoli put up a good fight. However..... they lost heavily to body injuries. Mike Biddle got a shoulder dislocation. Chas. Samson got the same thing, Ed Maynard got a broken foot and he's on crutches. Many of the other players got bruised heavily and are limping around. They are not going to be at full strength for the rest of the season.
